LOSE THEIR HOME.

Mr. and Mrs. H. V. Denver Made Homeless by the Cyclone Which Struck the Southern States.

A NARROW ESCAPE FOR LIFE.

Last Thursday a terrific cyclone swept parts of Georgia, Tennessee, Alabama, Louisiana, Mississippi and Texas, killing a number of persons and the damage to property running into millions.

At Lexington, Tenn., the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. V. Denver was demolished. Mrs. Denver was Miss Nina Marcum, daughter of Mrs. M. E. Marcum, this place, and she and her mother-in-law barely escaped with their lives. The storm struck Lexington about 2 o'clock in the afternoon, Mr. Denver being at his store down town, his mother and wife being the only persons at home. They saw the storm coming and escaped from the building just in time to keep from being killed, but were frightened beyond description. The fear and anxiety of the husband and son were horrible as he could not reach the scene until the storm had calmed. Besides the Denver home there were fifty-six other residences destroyed in the town.

Mrs. Denver writes her mother that she is thankful that their lives were saved; that they have not yet formulated plans, but that they would probably move into a flat for the present.

Their dwelling was new—completed last year and it was a cozy home. Much sympathy is felt here.

Dallas Texas Lady Dies.

Mrs. Elizabeth E. Wheat, aged 80 years, widow of the late C. M. Wheat, died yesterday at her home, 622 North Carroll Avenue. The funeral, which will be private, will be from the residence to Oakland Cemetery, at 2 o'clock this afternoon. Mrs. Wheat was born at Columbia, Adair County, Kentucky, October 19, 1834. She came to Texas with her husband forty years ago and located in Dallas, where she resided continuously until her death. She is survived by four sons—Cornet, Harry, Frank and Rue Wheat of Dallas, and two daughters, Mrs. O. W. Williams of Fort Stockton, Texas, and Mrs. E. R. Holland, of San Antonio.

A Dallas, Texas paper contained the above item, the death mentioned having occurred recently. Mrs. Wheat was a daughter of Judge Eli Wheat who for many years of his life was a prominent citizen of Columbia, and at one time was County Judge.

Land Sale.

On Wednesday, April 9, 1913, at or about 1 o'clock p. m., at the late residence of S. W. Petty, deceased, on Crocus creek, in Adair county, Ky., we will sell to the highest and best bidder, on a credit of six months, the farm owned by S. W. Petty at his death, consisting of about 160 acres. The purchaser will be required to give bond with good security for the purchase price, bearing interest from date until paid, and a lien retained upon the land to secure its payment. Possession will be given as soon as bids are accepted, and a deed executed, when the purchase price is paid.

John A. Pulliam, Committee for and Heirs of A. M. Petty (S. W. Petty, deed 20-2t)

Father of Seventy-Five Children.

London Barger, a noted colored man, who was born and reared in this county, is remembered by many of our old citizens. One of his sons, Ed, who was raised by the Williams family, Montpelier, and who goes by the name of Williams, was in Columbia a few days ago, his presence recalling some of his father's history, who was said to be the father of seventy-five children, nearly all of them born in the days of slavery. Ed told a gentleman, of Columbia, some time ago that he was the youngest of the children. He further stated that it could be established beyond a doubt that his paternal parent was the father of seventy-five children, and that many of them were yet living.

"Uncle" Jack Sanders has lost his dog. He is over the average size and has white and black spots, his head almost black. He will pay for information that will lead to his recovery. Address J. H. Sanders, Campbells-ville, Ky.

Birthday Dinner

On Thursday the 13th day of March, 1913, in honor of the 73rd birthday of Mrs. Eliza Ann Hurt quite a number of her friends and relatives both young and old gathered at her home with well filled baskets of the best things to eat, and was almost in the act of spreading them upon the table before she was aware of what was on hands, she laughed and was very much confused for a little time, after which she spent a very happy day. There were present and partook of the bountiful dinner Mr. and Mr. Geo. J. Hurt, Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Hurt, Art Hurt, Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Montgomery, Mr. and Mrs. P. M. Bryant, Mrs. James Goodin, Mr. and Mrs. Sam Coffey, Miss Patsy Montgomery and Rev. Luther Young and a lot of happy children. Vera, Sophia and Margrete Hurt, Edith and Ethel Montgomery, Sarah, Mary and Cora Goodin, Mary Lizzie Bascom and Willie Coffey. In the afternoon a lot of good friendly chats was indulged in for some time and a number of good songs, and short religious talks by Bros. Bryant and Young also prayer and a scripture lesson was read. Then they all took leave for their respective homes expressing their wishes that Mrs. Hurt would witness many more happy birthdays.

A Friend.

A Card.

To the people of Adair County:

I am informed that in some sections of the county there is an impression or report that I am in favor of the county issuing Bonds to make roads. I don't know whether this originated in some ones imagination or whether it is being intentionally done to create a prejudice against me. Let this be as it may it is entirely without foundation. Should this question come before the people I would vote against it. Adair county is practically out of debt, her citizens are in a prosperous condition. Should a majority of the people decide at any time that it would be to the best interest of the county to make an expenditure of money for any public purpose the county would be able to do this without issuing bonds or borrowing money and having to pay out yearly a large sum for interest. So far as I know or have heard there is no probability that any effort will be made to bring the question of bonds before the people for a vote. If my friends throughout the county, will so far as they are able, see that I am not misrepresented in this matter, I will appreciate it.

Very respectfully,
N. M. Hancock,
Cane Valley, Ky.

Notice to Stockmen.

As it's a little early for advertising stock, I will say to the farmers and stock raisers that I have a first-class Jack. He is a Coal Black, 15 hands high, 5 years old, and has proven himself to be a Number One Breeder, and very sure, and also the Famous Duke of Adair. Duke that needs no advertising, as the county is full of his colts from sucklings to 3 year olds that you can see for yourselves.

V. M. Epperson,
Montpelier, Ky.

Sew Sew Circle.

Mrs. S. P. White was hostess at the regular meeting of the Sew Sew circle last week, and she entertained on the board verandas of her home with a lovely outdoor view of tall pines and large oaks, laden with swaying moss.

In the game of guessing advertisements, the prize, a dainty dust cap and apron, went to Mrs. E. E. Coulson. A delightful salad course was served.

Besides a large attendance of the members the following invited guests were present: Mrs. A. F. Wyman, Mrs. E. E. Coulson, Mrs. Muerheid, Miss Butcher, Mrs. Ostrander, Miss Helen Browne, Mrs. Watters, Misses Fry, and the hostess' house guests, Miss McFarland, of Kentucky.—Bracetonville Fia. Journal.

Keep a Lookout.

Merchants and other business men of Columbia are hereby notified that there are thieves in the land. An effort was made last Friday night to enter Page & Taylor's drugstore, but the changing of the lock on the front door, a few days before, failed the would be intruders. Dr. Page's key to the store was stolen the first of the week, but the lock was at once changed, and the thief who got the key evidently visited the store Friday night, as there are evidence where he tried, with a sharp instrument, to prize out the scutching

Secretly Married.

On Saturday night, March 1, 1913, Mr. James H. Hoy and Miss Maggie Bragg, both of Gradyville, were quietly married in Columbia, the ceremony being said by Rev. O. P. Bush, pastor of the Baptist Church, at his residence. It was the intention of the couple and the witnesses to keep the affair a secret, but it leaked out last Wednesday morning, and in a very short time it was generally known on the streets.

The morning after the marriage Mrs. Hoy went to Louisville where she selected a line of millinery for Jamestown, where she has been engaged to run a store this season.

The bride is a popular young woman, who has the best wishes of her many friends.

The groom, as we understand, conducts a drug store at Gradyville.

Notice to Trustees.

An effort is being made by State Supt. Hamlett to get an exact census of the pupil children in every county. In addition to the usual census blanks a census pad must be filled by every parent and this pad filed in my office. If the exact age of child is not known the parent must decide at the best of his or her knowledge the date of birth. A census of all illiterate children between the ages of ten and twenty must also be made. Trustees read carefully the instructions given on census blanks and be governed accordingly. I will not accept these reports unless they are correct.

Mrs. L. L. Eubank is the agent for the Spirella made to measure Corset, the most comfortable and the most durable that is manufactured. She has sold them by the score and every lady who has worn one speaks of the Spirella in the highest terms. Mrs. Eubank will call at your homes or you can see her at her residence. Wait and let her explain the advantages of this popular corset.

Shooting at Russell Springs.

Julius Gaskins, a well-known stave dealer, of Russell county, was shot at the Kimble Hotel, Russell Springs, last Sunday afternoon by John Payne. The weapon used was an automatic shotgun and the load took effect in the victim's face and breast. It is said that the wounds are not serious. It is reported here that an old grudge was the cause of the trouble.

Dr. C. M. Russell, of this place, was called to attend the wounded man.

Green Circuit Court.

Court opened at Greensburg Monday, Judge Thurman on the bench. We learn that the docket is fuller than usual, and that several very important cases will be called for trial. Among the number are the two cases against Jo Stroll, a former merchant, charged with embezzlement. There are also two embezzlement charges against J. S. Mitchell, former cashier of the defunct bank at Summersville. H. S. Caven and fifteen others will also be before the court, charged with confederating together for the purpose of intimidating.

Good Farm for Rent.

The farm, known as the R. T. McCaffree farm, is for rent. It is a good one. Apply to Ralph Waggener.

Died.

Mrs. Henrietta Hancock, a highly respected old lady, died in the Green river section last Saturday night. She was a daughter of Col. John Tupman, who died many years ago. The funeral and interment took place last Sunday, a large circle of relatives and friends being present.

The County Judge of Green County has failed to get any one to collect the railroad debt. It is bad policy to disobey the mandates of a court. Something will be doing after awhile.

Wanted, 50,000 boards at Casey Jones store.

An Enjoyable Affair.

Misses Mary Myers and Grace Conover entertained a number of their young friends at the home of the former, a few evenings ago. There were music, games, a contest and refreshments. All present spent the hours delightfully and was sorry when the breaking up time came. Those present were Misses Dora Eubank, Lenora Lowe, Susan Miller, Ruth Ingram, Mary Breeding, Marie Denton, Creel Nell, Kate Gill, Cary Rosenfield, Loretta Dunbar and Mrs. Burdette and Aline Richards.

Messrs. Bryan English, Rex Holaday, Tom Patteson, Albia Eubank, Bascom Dohoney, Doc Walker, Ernest Harris, Ward Denton, Cyrus Williams, Edgar Diddle, Geo. Hancock, Jo Knifley, Edgar Reed and Mr. Burdette.

The contest was the best story written and the prize went to Miss Dora Eubank.

Green River Bridge Soon to be Replaced.

It will be remembered that the big freshet, two months ago, washed off the Green River Bridge at Plum Point, and since that time the structure has been in the bottom of the river. Mr. Babb, of the Champion Bridge Company, arrived last Wednesday, and with a crew of hands, is now engaged in getting the parts from the river. He thinks it can all be gotten out in six or eight days, if rain does not interfere. Some of the parts will have to be straightened and a few pieces ordered from the factory. We think we are safe in stating that at the end of a few weeks the bridge will be replaced to the great satisfaction of the people in that end of the county.

I have accepted the agency for J. R. Watkins Medical Co., in this county, and will make a home to home canvass. You will find these goods at any time at J. F. Patterson's store Columbia. I will be on the square the first day of every court. These goods need no recommendation as they have been tried by the people of this county and have given perfect satisfaction. Call at the above named store if you should need any of these goods before I call on you. These goods can also be found at D. M. Moore's, at Garlin.

Three to the Pen From Liberty.

Judge J. C. Carter stopped for dinner in Columbia, last Thursday, on his return from the Liberty circuit court to his home in Tompkinsville. While here he informed a News man that he had a busy court at Liberty. Thos. Miller, charged with seduction, was given four years in the penitentiary. Wm. Swearingner was given one year and eight months for same offense, and John Wehington, charged with hog stealing, got an indeterminate term from one to five years.

Peafowls Wanted.

W. T. Hodgen.

Campbellsville, Ky.

All Odd Fellows, in regular standing, are urged to attend Columbia Lodge, No. 230, next Thursday night. There will be work in the initiatory and second degree. All meetings of late have been of special interest and every member should attend unless prevented by sickness. Brethern of sister lodges are extended a cordial invitation.

Geo. R. Reed, N. G.

Mrs. S. T. Hughes met with an accident last Saturday afternoon. She was in Columbia and had started home, when she reached the hill, just beyond S. H. Mitchell's place, and in descending it, the bolt which held the shafts, broke and the horse started in a run. The buggy was upset and Mrs. Hughes thrown to the ground. She was considerably bruised, but not seriously hurt.

Columbia Lodge, No. 96, F. and A. M., will meet next Friday night. Work in first. All Masons in good standing invited.

A Very Sick Man.

Mr. John W. Haynes, a fine old Kentucky gentleman, who lives in Russell county, just over the Adair line about one mile from Montpelier, has been in a critical condition for several months. Every body in the neighborhood interested in his condition and friends call daily to offer their assistance. While he is receiving the best of medical skill it is not thought he can survive but a short time. He has been a useful man to his community, and since taken sick he has been greatly missed from the business affairs of the neighborhood. We would be glad to hear of a change in his condition for the better.

Will Build a Handsome Residence.

Mr. Walker Bryant, County Court Clerk, purchased four acres of land, last Wednesday, from Mrs. Sarah Bradshaw. It is located on Pea Ridge and adjoins the property of Dr. W. R. Grisom, a beautiful site. Consideration, $1,900. Mr. Bryant will erect a handsome residence, a two story structure, modern plan. He is undecided whether he will build a brick or a frame. He will install water works, and make it one of Columbia's most convenient homes.

How the Vote Stands

The following is the standing of the candidates at the Parlor Circle, up to and including last Saturday night:

Dora Eubank	9,100
Mary Smith	8,750
Mary Breeding	3,250
Margaret Lovett	3,000
Nell Tarter	1,000
Mollie Jeffries	700

We have closed our mill in order to put in new machinery: will be closed from 30 to 60 days. We will continue to buy wheat.

Jailers to Get More Fees.

One reason assigned for the big scramble on in almost every county for the office of Jailor is that the "boys" have gotten "wise" to the fact that beginning January 1, 1914, when the new officials assume office, the fees will be increased 50 per cent. Under an act of the Legislature which takes effect the then Jailers will be allowed 75 cents a day for feeding prisoners in their charge instead of 50 cents a day as now allowed. In many counties this increase will make the Jailers' office the best paying one and account for the numerous candidates.

Eugene Weathington, representing The Adair Spoke Co., bought, last Thursday, a boundary of hickory timber from Mr. J. A. Diddle, estimated to make 500,000 spokes. This timber will be cut and hauled to the yard in Columbia as quickly as possible. This company now has many thousands of spokes stacked on their yard, and some time in May the machinery will be installed and the manufactory started.

The Banner, a paper that was published at Burkesville, was burned out the first of last week. Insurance on the plant, $500. We have not learned whether another plant will be installed. Sometime before the fire the outfit was submerged by water, and it required two months to clean the type and machinery.

How to Collect Accounts.

We collect notes and accounts and look after claims anywhere in the United States and make no charges unless we collect.

May's Collection Agency,
Somerset, Ky.

Next Thursday and Friday will be opening days at Russell & Co's store. Come to town and see the spring attractions. The largest stock that has been in Columbia for several seasons will be on display. See advertisement on our editorial page.

The heavy rains, last Thursday night, did considerable damage to land in some portions of the county. It is said that the washouts in some locations were greater than for many years.

Foxes Wanted.

Grey Foxes $2.50, Red Foxes $5.00; Minks $6.00 to $8.00 each; Coons $1.25, and express. Send name of your express office in first letter.

S. M. Burdette, of this place, sold five mules to Henry Sanders, last week, at an average $106.25 per head.

Greensburg burbs.

We have had the weather for the past 12 or 14 days, and our farmers made good use of the time, turning a great deal of the soil.

Plant burning is about over in this section, and quite a number have been burned and sown.

The growing wheat crop is looking fairly well in this section.

There are yet several good crops of tobacco in this community unsold.

Born to the wife of Rufus Burres, Feb 22, a boy—Thomas L. Mother and baby are doing well.

There are more curly little chicks in this community than ever known before at this time of the season.

Mrs. J. H. Paxton sold eleven Barred Plymouth Rock hens on the market at 12c per pound, that brought $11.44

J. H. Paxton bought 4 hogs from the Lowe Bros. at 5 1/2 cents per pound, and sold a suckling calf to Vester Dills for $20.

Mr. Finas Bagby and Miss Hattie Chaney were united in marriage at the home of the bride Sunday afternoon, Feb., the 23rd, Rev. H. Sutton tying the nuptial knot.

Miss Nonie Burres, of Greensburg has been visiting relatives in this community for several days.

Messrs. Ernest Paxton and Lisle Sherrill visited their uncle, A. W. Paxton, of Bliss, Adair county, Saturday and Sunday.

Miss Mary Loy is visiting relatives in Greensburg, this week.

Rev. Levi will begin a series of revival meetings at Cox's Bend, in the near future.

Misses Grace and Ida Sherrill, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Hudson and little daughter, Mary, visited the family of Dudley Hartfield, of Fry, Ky., Saturday night and Sunday.

Several of our people have been attending the revival meetings in progress at the Baptist church at Greensburg.

Prof. U. G. Anderson, of Russell county, recently taught a class in vocal music at Boiling Springs, and has two other schools made in this section, one at Cox's Bend, the other at Clover Lick. He is expected to begin work Wednesday.

Big Elm.

No serious sickness in this section at this writing.

There has been some fine weather for farming and the farmers have made good use of it.

Mr. Otha Bibee's saw and grist mills are doing good business.

Mr. Willie Cain is straightening the bed of Cabin Fork through his farm. He has had several hands at work on it for some time.

Mr. Lee Calhoun, our fur man, is a hustler, collecting furs and hides and shipping them to New York.

Mr. Hardin Cape, of Inroad, has bought a farm in this section and moved to it.

Bad roads throughout this section in rainy weather. An unkept highway is worse than plague to deter investors in rural property. Bad roads restrict business. Good roads promote the comfort and general welfare of the localities where they abound. The country roads throughout the State with only exception enough to prove the rule, are a disgrace to our civilization. We should exert our influence to make our country famous for well kept highways.

Cattle is scarce and very high. If a man has a calf he don't want to sell he keeps it in the back shed where it will not be seen by the passer-by. If the owner was to turn it in the front lot in sight of the road he would be bothered with at least ten men a day to buy that calf, offering from $20 up, according to size and condition.

Prof. Jones, of Cedar Nobs, and his class, will sing at this place some time in March.

Rev. C. M. Dener delivered a very interesting discourse at Liberty church last Sunday.

There will be a new telephone line in operation soon, running from Denmark on the Croelsboro and Stanford road, north, via Liberty church to Roy on the Columbia and Russell Springs road. It is in process of construction at this time, a distance of 6 or 8 miles.

Every writer should praise his own neighborhood and country, 25 years ago this section had hundreds of acres of old fields laying out to the commons, the owners could not afford to cultivate them, now they are cleaned up and fenced and in fine cultivation. Some of these farms raise three and four hundred bushels of wheat with the assistance of a little commercial fertilizer.

Special.

Died Feb. 27th, 1913, Juel Vonza Hughes, daughter of J. Frank and Eliza E. Hughes, at the home of her parents with pulmonary tuberculosis.

She was the fourth and last daughter that died with this dreadful disease and is survived by her father, mother and two brothers, Hula Curtis and Julius Riny Hughes.

She professed a hope in Christ about five years ago at the Wellfare church and lived a consistent Christian life to the end.

The funeral services were held at Pleasant Hill, her home church, Bro. C. F. Kennett officiating. The interment being in the Pleasant Hill cemetery.

We feel grateful to the people of the community for their kindness and many inviting gifts to her during her illness.

To the readers of The News we urge that integrity in action, nobleness in deeds, purity of heart and the faithful performance of their duty are the brightest jewels that ever adorned the life of man, and death, whether or not we count its embraces, or try to ward it off, will soon claim us as its victims.

Chronic Stomach Trouble Cured.

There is nothing more discouraging than a chronic disorder of the stomach. Is it not surprising that many suffer for years with such an ailment when a permanent cure is within their reach and may be had for a trifle? "About one year ago, 'I bought a package of Chamberlain's Tablets, and since using them I have felt perfectly well. I had previously used any number of different medicines, but none of them were of any lasting benefit.' For sale by Paul Drug Co.

Mt. Pleasant.

Plowing is the order of the day in this community, and we have had some fine weather for the farm work.

The Sunday School at this place is getting along nicely. We have a good attendance and the lessons are well prepared.

Miss Harriet Bridgewater has been very ill for the last two weeks, but is some better at this time.

While Mrs. Nellie Conover was preparing to spend a pleasant day with Mrs. Sallie Smith on her birthday, she was taken with a hemorrhage and her condition was critical for some time. She is some better now.

Mr. Claud Callison, wife and children were visiting Mr. Brack Massie, of Columbia, last Saturday and Sunday.

Mr. John Faulkner, wife and son, little Joe, spent Saturday and Sunday with J. W. Sublett, of Cane Valley.

Mr. William Michum from Casey, of Casey, is getting along fine making spokes on the Ruel Hutchison farm.

Mr. Lawrence Pickett gave the young folks of this community a party Saturday night, and every one report a nice time.

Mr. Harden Cundiff was visiting his brother, Tom Cundiff, the latter part of the week.

Miss Bettie L. Butler has been right sick with the measles, but is better.

Mrs. Mary Gresham and Zella East spent Friday with Mrs. Mary Banks.

Misses Mary Cundiff and Annie D. Hood spent Saturday night with Jennie and Nellie Butler.

Misses Julia Moore and Rachel Tupman, Messrs. Tyler Tupman and Henry Moore spent Saturday night and Sunday with Amanda Butler.

Mr. Ed Vanhoy is getting along very nice in his store. It is a great help to this community.

A Rural Parson's Platform.

From an old issue of the congregationalist we get the following platform of a rural parson, which it seems to us has some very sensible and solid planks in it:

1. A better brand of Christians, who will stand the social and business test as well as the more narrow "religious" test.
2. More cheerful, systematic financial givers.
3. A better home life, in physical, sanitary and social respects.
4. Scientific agriculture.
5. An efficient school system, with vocal training.
6. Clean citizenship in local, State and national politics.
7. A wholesome and self-sufficient social life.
8. A rational development of amusements, sports and recreation.
9. Creation of the right sort of community environment.
10. Co-operation between all forces working for the good of the community.

Chamberlain's Tablets for Constipation.

For constipation, Chamberlain's Tablets are excellent. Easy to take mild and gentle in effect. Give them a trial. For sale by Paul Drug Co.

JUDAS NO. 76,284.

The above picture is a natural photograph of JUDAS the famous PERCHERON STALLION. He will make the season of 1913, at my barn one mile east of Columbia, Ky., on the Sommerset road, for the sum of $10.00 to insure a living colt.

DESCRIPTION: Judas is a 5 year old Percheron, a steel gray, weighs 1700 pounds and is 16 1/2 hands high. He is a perfect model and a world beater. Remember that every farming country in the world wants the Percheron horse. The leading mule producing States are raising the mules from the Percheron mares. See this horse before you breed. I will gladly show you his certificate of registration and Pedigree.

Money due when colt is foaled or mare traded or removed from neighborhood.

All care taken to prevent accidents but not responsible should any occur.

Profits From Abandoned Lands.

After many millions had been obtained from their forests products the lands of Northern Michigan and Minnesota were abandoned by the lumber companies. Within the past few years however, it has been realized that these waste areas, although partly covered with water and scrub timber may be made to yield additional profit. Large holdings have been purchased, principally by Eastern interest, and capital has been secured for clearing and placing immense tracts under cultivation. As a part of the financial plans of these operations, funds are also available for bringing families to the land and for maintaining them until they have become self-supporting. Handsome profits have already been realized by the promoters and even larger returns are expected in the future from advances in the land values and from the sale of the products of the areas which have been converted into farms and orchards.

Similar undertakings in the South would require a much smaller outlay of capital and would yield proportionately much larger profits than have been obtained in the northwest. South of Richmond and within easy distance of its markets, there are thousands of acres of waste lands from which the first growth of timber has been taken. Large areas may be bought at very low prices per acre. The second growth of timber when converted into shingles or staves would probably return in profits the original amount of the purchase, or at least, would afford sufficient funds to bring the land under cultivation and to place settlers upon it. The whole or the large part of the amount obtained from the sale of the lands to truck and other farmers would be clear profit. A great opportunity exists for business men with broad visions to add to the wealth and trade of Richmond and to develop the agricultural resources of Virginia, and at the same time, to secure handsome returns for their own services and for the capital invested.—Exchange.

Why People go to Church.

Some go to church, to tell the truth,
Because of habit formed in youth.
Some go because they like to hear
The preacher rake their neighbors near.
Some go because they think it squares
Week day sins and other affairs
Some go because they are afraid
That not to go might injure trade
Some go to take a restful snooze,
In the peaceful, quiet pews
Some go to simply gaze and stare
And see what other people wear
Some go just to settle strife
Get rid of baby and scolding wife
And yet among the chaff we find
Much golden grain of human kind.
Good men and women, who
To holy things are ever true
Bright flowers grow from sinful sod
Who really go to worship God.—
Glasgow Republican.

Pointed Paragraphs.

The best of men are sometimes worsted—and that's no yarn.

Silly people are usually happy, but not all happy people are silly.

No inventor has been able to produce a noiseless flat wheel as yet.

Many a slow man develops in to sprinter when he has a chance too run into debt.

While the season's always open for fortune hunting, few of the hunters are good shots.

Love and whiskey makes some men do a lot of queer things.

A spinster has given up hope when she quits reading the marriage notices.

It may be that woman dislikes cigars because they are always arrayed in common every-day wrappers.

A widow's idea of letting a man win her is to first catch him in a web of her own spinning.

Somehow the average woman's heart aches a good deal more for the poor heathen abroad than it does for the dirty children in the next block.

The Forty Year Test

An article must have exceptional merit to survive for a period of forty years. Chamberlain's Cough Remedy was first offered to the public in 1872. From a small beginning it has grown in favor and popularity until it has attained a world wide reputation. You will find nothing better for a cough or cold. Try it and you will understand why it is a favorite after a period of more than forty years. It not only gives relief—it cures. For sale by Paull Drug Co.

Longest Straight Line Railroad.

One would think that the distinction of having the longest section of straight line would belong to some of the railroad systems traversing the vast prairie section of this country but this is not so. The longest straight line of railroad in the world is in New Zealand. It is 136 miles long, and throughout its whole length there is not a single curve or minor deviation from a straight line. But what makes this fact of New Zealand's possession the more remarkable is that the country is mountainous throughout the greatest part of its 2,300 square miles of territory.

Somebody's Daughter.

I do not know her name; perhaps you do. I have never seen her face; maybe her picture hangs on her bed room wall.

By some strange chance her head may have rested some day on your shoulders. She's somebody's daughter; pray God not yours.

Tonight the claws of the city are ripping at her soul. Loneliness and hunger have sapped her will and false pride has blinded her.

She is not a bad girl, just tired, numb. The dice were loaded. The game was crooked. The odds were too great for her wisdom and strength. The road was strange and the guide-posts lied.

Back-home life was a drab thing and sober-faced. The petty tyrannies of the little town the eternal sameness of the years, starving her imagination. Romance was hungry within her and cried for beauty, mystery and adventure. And out of deprivation sprang reckless yearning.

You did not understand, mother-of-hers, wherever you are. You could not see with her eyes. Your own were filled with pictures of family wash and cooking and mending and brooms and dust cloths.

Fate has paid you in stingy and bitter pence.

But that is just what she saw, that and the thankless yoke under which the wives of poor men struggle and strain and surrender.

The wings of her fancy kept beating across the miles and carried her into a dreamland of joy and gaiety where work would be as children's play, with real money all her own, to spend as she chose—to buy what she wished.

But the wage shrank when it reached her—its purchasing power shrivled.

Five dollars a week (six, seven if you insist)—just enough to give shelter and sustenance.

At first she was straight—it was in her blood—in her traditions. The women of your family never contemplated the easier way.

But young girls who live alone can seldom protect themselves. Few have the intuition to comprehend until it is too late—some are too weak to fight it out—and some are too weary.

And now she has paid the price—she has crossed the deadline.

The city has dropped its mask and she is sitting staring into its brutal, relentless, inexorable face. At last she realizes all that she has lost—all that might have been—the happiness that patience could have won.

She sees the man back home who one day would have brought his love and the children that love would have brought.

The robins are singing in the orchard. Spring has kissed the trees into blossom. The honest fragrance of fresh plowed loam rises from the lower meadow. Soon the wild roses will bear their hearts, field violets will purple the slopes and the sunlight will robe the hills with gowns of gold. But never again for her.

"When we know not the price to be paid, we dare."

Herbert Kaufman.

Newspaper Errors.

The editor of an exchange doesn't want anyone to send him any more copies of his paper in which they have found mistakes. If they find a perfect copy, however, he offers a big price for it. Same with us, says the editor of the Crystal Falls, Mich., Drill. If the fool critic who hunts for mistakes in the papers would find them all he would be kept busy. We will be pleased to buy copies of any paper which can be proven entirely free from errors, either typographical or in statement of fact. We will be pleased to find a merchant who never made a mistake in putting up an order; a lawyer who never lost a case through his own error, a doctor who never made a mistake, a postoffice official who never put mail into the wrong box, a woman who never forgot to put in salt while cooking or to put tea in the teapot before putting in the water.

Bring on some of your mistakeless paragons who find it so easy to criticize the papers and we'll give them the chance of their lives to find out whether they are human.—Ex.

The Cause of Rheumatism

Stomach trouble, lazy liver and deranged kidneys are the cause of rheumatism. Get your stomach, liver kidneys and bowels in a healthy condition by taking Electric Bitters, and you will not be troubled with the pains of rheumatism. Charles B. Allen, a school principal, of Sylvania, Ga., who suffered indescribable torture from rheumatism, liver and stomach trouble and diseased kidneys, writes: "All remedies failed until I used Electric Bitters, but four bottles of this wonderful remedy cured me completely." May be your rheumatic pains come from stomach, liver or kidney troubles. Electric Bitters will give you prompt relief. 50c and $1. Recommended by Paull Drug Co.

Slaughtering Calves.

Someone has conservatively estimated that around 6,000,000 calves are annually slaughtered in this country, including those slaughtered on the farm. Thousands of calves are annually slaughtered that are of good beef type, their owners slaughtering and marketing them at a tender age to rid the cow of her charge and put her into the dairy service again. The dairy cow is a short road to profit, but her steer calf, if kept on the farm until he has attained the yearling age and then sold to a beef-cattle feeder, should in the long run net more profit. It might not all be represented in dollars and cents, but that calf, having the run of the farm for a year, would help enrich the soil fertility enough to well pay its keep. It should be stopped by law. That is the cause of a shortage on cattle, which causes this "high cost of living."—Ex.

THE ADAIR COUNTY NEWS

Published Every Wednesday

BY THE

Adair County News Company.
(INCORPORATED.)

CHAS. S. HARRIS EDITOR.

Democratic newspaper devoted to the interest of the City of Columbia and the people of Adair and adjacent counties.

Entered at the Columbia Post-office as second class mail matter.

WED. MARCH 19. 1913

We notice that Mr. L. H. Cabell, of Miami, has announced his candidacy to represent Green and Taylor counties in the next Legislature. Mr. Cabell has been an active Democrat in his county for a number of years and he is well-known in Taylor, and we predict that he will be a popular candidate, as he is well qualified to fill the position. His Adair county friends would be glad to see him win the nomination.

The world evidently grows better year by year, but the wickedness now in it is alarming. The white slave traffic is a disgrace to civilization, and the crimes which occur nightly in dens of vice in the large cities are horrifying. Religious people are working constantly to bring about better conditions, but the demons continue in their devilishness.

It was given out from Washington, last Tuesday, that Postmaster Burleson had announced that he planned to place all fourth-class postmasters on a civil service basis; that all second and third-class postmasters and possibly all first-class would be in the classified list. If this means that he will retain the P. M. Now in, there will be some sad disappointments.

It will be gratifying to his many friends in Adair county to learn that ex-Governor J. C. W. Beckham, candidate for United States Senator, will speak in Columbia sometime during the spring or summer. The exact date cannot be announced at this time, but due notice will be given of his coming.

The extra session of Congress will likely be called one week later than the first of April, the time given out to meet. Leader Underwood, of the House, informed the President that he would not be ready by the first day of April. This extra session will be devoted almost exclusively to the tariff.

Richard Olney declined to accept the Ambassadorship to Great Britain. Up to last Sunday President Wilson had made no other selection. Mr. Olney's age probably prevented him from accepting, he being seventy-nine years old.

Dr. F. F. Friedman, of Europe, the originator of the tuberculosis cure, will be invited to Louisville to do vaccination. His theory is that the serum he uses will prevent as well as cure consumption.

The extra session of Congress is called for the 7th of April.

Owensby.

It should be recorded as an item of note that our villa is on the improvement list.

Mr. L. M. Owens, our enterprising merchant is enjoying a fine trade and takes great pleasure in pleasing and accommodating his customers.

Mr. J. M. Dunbar sold a mule to D. Wade, of Longstreet, for $118 and bought another of Oscar Leveredge for $100.

Aunt Sarah Clayton is quite sick at this writing.

Miss Laura Moore, of Jamestown, spent last week visiting friends at this place.

Mr. Dril Hudson is at Mr. C. C. Holts confined with measles.

Mr. Ed Lawless is on a business trip to Indianapolis, Ind.

Mr. Goff, Bee-Dee stockfood drummer, was here one day last week.

On Wednesday March 6th, Mr. Herbert Long and Miss Ada Antle were united in the holy bond of happy bliss by Esq. Sam Collins.

Mr. M. O. Stevenson and family, of near Columbia, spent from Saturday until Sunday visiting at Mr. J. H. Barger's.

Mr. E. L. Reese and family, visited at the former's sister, Mrs. Rowe Antle, at Denmark, Saturday and Sunday.

Born to the wife of Grover Aaron, the 11th, a boy.

C. M. Gaines and son, Hollie, were called to Clinton county last week to witness the burial of their brother-in-law, Willie McClure, who died very suddenly.

Mr. Dink Willis, a fruit agent of Joppa, was in this part last week.

Mrs. Dollie Guthrie sold 6 calves to Willie Blakey, for $100.

Miss Leona Lawless, who has been confined for some time with consumption, remains about the same.

Mrs. Otho Lawless is having bad spells, something like spinal trouble.

"Pittsburgh Perfect" Fence

Why the Electric Weld is the Most Effective Fence-Joint made

Electrically welding joints eliminates innumerable exposed wire ends, and does away with sharply and tightly bending one wire against another, which cracks the galvanizing. The Electric Weld makes every ounce of wire count for strength and durability—no wasted wire, no useless weight dragging down the fence. Electricity is the only medium which truly amalgamates metals—makes two wires one. As we use it, the galvanizing is piled around the joints, producing a one-piece fabric with absolutely dependable joints. Electrically Welded fence-joints (patented) are used only in "Pittsburgh Perfect."

Made in Different Styles for FIELD, FARM, RANCH, LAWN, CHICKEN, POULTRY and RABBIT YARD and GARDEN

Egg money is the easiest and quickest money in the poultry industry. If you are going to make eggs your specialty, you should look well into the matter before purchasing stock or eggs for hatching. Miss Mary Young, of the L. W. T. S., spent Saturday and Sunday with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Young.

Miss Bettie Gadberry, of Lebanon Junction, is visiting her nephew, Mr. Lucian Gadberry.

Mrs. F. G. Willis' condition remains about the same.

Miss May Upton, who is teaching at Mr. John Dohoney's spent Saturday and Sunday at home.

Mrs. E. R. Willis spent a few days of last week with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Morrison, of Gadberry.

Mr. Everett Turner, of Smith's Chapel, passed through here Saturday on a business trip to Montpelier.

Mr. and Mrs. T. E. Jeffries, of Columbia, were visiting the latter's mother, Mrs. Eliza Conover, Saturday and Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. George Smith, of Lula, visited their parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. P. Barger, of this place, and Mr. and Mrs. G. P. Smith, of Columbia, Saturday and Sunday. They were accompanied home by Mrs. Smith's sister, Miss Elma Barger, who expects to spend a few weeks at Lula.

Quite a large crowd was at Zion Sunday to hear Rev. O. P. Bush. He delivered an excellent sermon. He is our pastor for the coming year, and we feel that we are fortunate in having him with us.

Three in One Church.

The New York Avenue Presbyterian church at Washington has had an addition of three men to its membership Woodrow Wilson, Thomas S. Marshal and William J. Bryan. Such additions to any church are significant and will add much to the power and influence to it. These three men are not merely members of the church, they are not satisfied that they have done their Christian duty simply with a church enrollment, but are active working members. In the absence of the pastor any one of them will fill his pulpit or lead his prayer meeting or conduct his Bible class. We point to this fact not to show that the New York Avenue Presbyterian church has been so much strengthened, but to show that the men who hold the three highest offices, the President, Vice President and Secretary of State, next in line of promotion to the Presidency, are leaders in the State. What a splendid influence three such men have for Christianity. This influence is so great that it is impossible to measure it. It is a great thing for the church as well as for the State that the leading men of the Nation are not only statesmen and leaders of public thought, effecting the welfare of the Nation, but that they stand as great towers of strength for Christianity. It argues better things for God's church on earth. There is every reason in a Christian country why all of our public servants in high and low places should be active christians and no reason why they should not be.—E. Town News.

What's The Matter With Your Baby?

The young mother—and many an old one, too—is often puzzled to know the cause of her child's ill nature. The loudness of its crying does not necessarily indicate the seriousness of its trouble. It may have nothing more than a headache or a feeling of general dullness. It cannot, of course, describe its feelings, but as a preliminary measure you are safe in trying a mild laxative.

Nine times out of ten, you will find it is all the child needs, for its restlessness and peevishness are perhaps due to obstruction of the bowels, and once that has been remedied the headache, the sluggishness and the many other evidences of constipation and indigestion will quickly disappear.

Don't give the little one salts, cathartic pills or nasty waters, for these will act as purgatives, and they are too strong for a child. In the families of Mrs. M. S. Adams, Auburn, Ky., and Mrs. L. M. Boyce, Tip Top, Ky., the only laxative given is Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. It has been found to answer most perfectly all the purposes of a laxative, and its very mildness and freedom from griping recommend it especially for the use of children, women, and old folks generally—people who need a gentle bowel stimulant. Thousands of American families have been enthusiastic about it for more than a quarter of a century.

Anyone wishing to make a trial of this remedy before buying it in the regular way of a druggist at fifty cents or one dollar a large bottle (family size) can have a sample bottle sent to the home free of charge by simply addressing Dr. W. E. Caldwell, 405 Washington St., Monticello, Ill. Your name and address on a postal card will do.

BOILING AN EGG.

If It Gives You Trouble You Might Try John Randolph's Way.

The boiling of an egg seems a simple matter, but many a breakfast has been spoiled and many a temper rased by the cook's failing to observe the precise number of minutes the process should occupy.

That very original man, John Randolph, is said to have invented a method of getting his eggs cooked exactly to his taste that worked perfectly. As is the case in many country homes in the south, the kitchen was in a separate building at some distance from the house, and servants were plenty.

When the "sage of Roanoke" took his seat at the breakfast table there was a line of servants from the dining room to the kitchen. Mrs. Randolph, the mother of the statesman, held an open watch in her hand.

"In!" exclaimed Mr. Randolph, and the word "in" was passed from mouth to mouth until it reached the waiting cook, who dropped the eggs into the water. After the requisite number of seconds the holder of the timepiece signified that the cooking was done. "Out!" went forth the command in like manner, and the eggs were quickly removed.

The system required six or seven servants to cook one egg, but Randolph was accustomed to declare that this was the only way that he could get it cooked to suit him.—Youth's Companion.

AN INGENIOUS CLOCK.

Curious Automaton That Was Made in London a Century Ago.

One of the most wonderful timekeepers known to horologists was made in London, England, a hundred years ago and was sent by the president of the East India company as a gift to the emperor of China. The case was made in the form of a chariot, in which was seated the figure of a woman.

This figure was of pure ivory and gold, and the right hand rested upon a tiny clock, fastened to the side of the chariot. Portions of the wheels which kept track of the flight of time were hidden in the body of a tiny bird, which had seemingly just alighted upon the woman's finger.

There was a canopy above, so arranged as to conceal a silver bell. The bell was fitted with a little hammer, also of silver, which, although it did not appear to have any connection with the clock, struck the hours regularly and could be made to repeat by touching a diamond on the woman's bodice.

In the chariot, at the woman's feet there was a golden figure of a dog, and above were two birds, apparently flying before the chariot. This beautiful ornament was made almost entirely of gold and was elaborately adorned with precious stones.—St. Louis Globe Democrat.

Never Can Happen Again.

The Montenegrin law which ordains that any found valuable shall be placed where the loser can find it reminds one of an anecdote told of Grimaldi's grandfather in Dickens' life of the famous clown. On one of his visits to London hall market with nearly £400 in gold and silver upon him "he found that his shoe had become unbuckled and, taking from his pocket the bag, he placed it upon a neighboring post and then proceeded to adjust his buckle." Having afterward to pay for a purchase, he missed his bag of gold and hurried back to the post where he had buckled his shoe. "Although more than three quarters of an hour had elapsed, there it remained, safe and untouched, on the top of a post in the open street. That was in eighteenth century London. Could it happen now?—London Chronicle.

A Curious Coincidence.

The story of a queer coincidence was told by Sir Arthur Conan Doyle. While traveling upon the continent he visited a certain mountain inn, which was in winter, he learned, occupied only by two men. These men, prisoned by a waste of snow and ice, had for all that period no communication with the world below. Here was a situation for a novelist! And the novelist accordingly began to let his imagination play about the possibilities of tragedy surrounding the two men on their mountain height. But the story was never written, for, happening to come upon a volume of Guy de Maupassant, which was new to him, he found therein, under the title of "L'Auberge," the very story he had meant to write.

The Herons of Andalusia.

Of all the birds he had studied, said W. Farren in a lecture, none showed conjugal affection in quite the same way as the brown backed herons of Andalusia, in Spain. Whenever the husband relieved his wife at the nest he invariably laid his neck over hers in a momentary embrace and then took up his position while the other bird flew away. The herons never omitted this affectionate salutation.—London Standard.

Cause and Effect.

"What a concealed little bumpington is!" said Hawkes. "I wonder if he ever gets a glimpse of himself in the glass."

"I guess that's the trouble," said Jinks. "He probably uses a magnifying glass."—Harper's.

Tomorrow.

The best day in the year. What day is? Why, tomorrow, of course.

We don't know whether it will be rainy or fair—but why care? Rain or shine, it will have 24 hours. Time for honest work; for play; for sound refreshing sleep.

Time to let you take a lesson from the breaks and mistakes of yesterday and today; and, starting anew, dig your toes into the sand and make things hum.

You know you can't call back the past.

So why fret about it?

Look ahead!

Take a new grip and tackle the future.

If you're not a hopeless dub, you'll be wiser tonight than you were this morning. Wiser by a whole busy day's rich experience. Wiser by what 12 hours in the most eventful, interesting instructive period of human history have taught you.

Which means that you'll be riper, braver, better fit to go to the tasks, the opportunities, the victories, stronger to bear the sorrows, abler to value the joys, that lie ahead.

Fate may have dealt poor hands yesterday.

You may have played your cards like a chump today.

But tomorrow you have the chance of your life, because it's a new day, a clean day, a day you can make what you will.

So, up early fellow, and go to it!

Bad Spells

"I suffered, during girlhood, from womanly weakness," writes Mrs. Mollie Navy, of Walnut, N. C. "At last, I was almost bed-ridden, and had to give up. We had three doctors. All the time, I was getting worse. I had bad spells, that lasted from 7 to 28 days. In one week, after I gave Cardui a trial, I could eat, sleep, and joke, as well as anybody. In 8 weeks, I was well. I had been an invalid for 5 weary years! Cardui relieved me, when everything else failed."

TAKE CARDUI The Woman's Tonic

If you are weak and ailing, think what it would mean, to you, to recover as quickly as Mrs. Navy did. For more than 50 years, this purely vegetable, tonic remedy, for women, has been used by thousands of weak and ailing sufferers. They found it of real value in relieving their aches and pains. Why suffer longer? A remedy that has relieved and helped so many, is ready, at the nearest drug store, for use, at once, by you. Try it, today.

Prohibiting Marriage.

The Bankers' Trust Company, of New York, seems to be inviting a decision by the court that its action with reference to the marriage of its clerks is against public policy. Its directors have just adopted a rule that a clerk receiving less than $100 a month will be dismissed and forfeit the right to share in the company's pension if he takes for himself a wife. The directors claim that this was not to protect themselves, but to safeguard the employees against the disaster likely to follow an attempt to support a family on an insufficient salary. The clerks will doubtless regard it, however, as indefensible meddling in their private affairs of which they will themselves be the better judges. That there are many young people who give little thought when they marry to supporting a family is evident, but as the matter has not been attempted to be regulated by law it is doubtful if trust companies can succeed in doing so. Love defies parents and locksmiths, and it will likely defy those guardians of matters which seem not to concern them. They may lose clerks, but they won't materially decrease the marriage rate.—W. P. Walton in Lexington Herald.

Facts About Corn.

Did you know that our annual corn crop would more than pay for the cotton crop of the entire world, and put into meat it would buy it twice over?

Our annual yield of this greatest of all crops is about 3,000,000,000 bushels, which is contributed to by every State in the Union. Even this is not enough to supply the ever increasing demand, and the fact faces us that there is no more acreage to draw from. The only source we have to look to is better seed and better cultivation. There is no work in any crop which gives so great a comparative profit as the use of the best seed corn, the breeding of which is a science and study, the same as is constructive breeding of live stock. The axiom that "likes begets like" more nearly holds good in corn growing than in anything else. You will almost invariably "reap what you sow." The showiest corn is often a poor yielder. The large, handsome ear is frequently less potent than an ear of less striking appearance.

If you have improved seed corn you must carefully test each ear if you would get maximum results. If you haven't improved seed of your own, and even if you have, but have not selected it in the best manner, or cared for it as you should, and are now too busy to test each ear, then buy seed for planting from the experienced corn breeder. The man who knows, and you know that he knows because he has accomplished things in the way of yields and awards at shows that you aspire to.

The expert on seed corn acquires a wonderful knowledge of his product and selects it not only on appearance but from the feel of it in handling. This knowledge coupled with the care he practices from the very starting of the crop, and then his actual testing of the seed, insures the farmer largely better returns than he can hope to obtain, unless he has a thorough knowledge of the work and applies it diligently.

If every corn grower would plant good seed this year, it is reasonable to estimate that the crop for 1913 would be double of that of 1912.—Farmers Home Journal.

Should See It Through.

It is expected that the first ship will pass through the Panama Canal in October of this year, and it is probable that there will be no other ships that will pass through until August or September, 1914, as there will remain much to do by the engineers in charge after the water is turned on for the passage of the first ship. Two Kentuckians, ex-Senator Blackburn and Mr. Maurice H. Thatcher have filled the positions of Civil Governor of the Canal Zone, and Mr. Thatcher is now the Governor. He has held the office for three years and he and his charming wife, a Frankfort girl, and the daughter of a Confederate veteran, are most popular with the residents of the Canal Zone and the people of Panama. It is highly improbable that another Kentuckian would be selected to fill this post, and we believe that, until the permanent commission is appointed, which will be some time this year or early in the next year, the present Governor should be permitted to remain in office until the completion of the canal work, with which he has been so closely identified. The Times believes in Kentucky and Kentuckians and we will be glad to see this Kentuckian remain at his post until the opening of the canal, unless President Wilson finds a Kentucky Democrat to fill the place.—Louisville Times.

Gospel of Good Roads.

Hopkinsville, Ky.—The Good Roads convention, after a two days' session, which was largely attended and with keen interest manifested, ended, the concluding feature being a practical demonstration by G. W. Sybert, County Attorney of Hopkins, of the King splitlog drag for dirt roads. There were delegates and county officials present during the meeting from a number of "Pennyrile" and Tennessee counties, and the belief is generally expressed that great improvements of the roads in this region will result from the convention. The speakers were former County Judge W. T. Fowler, County Attorney John C. Duffey, State Road Commissioner R. C. Terrell, County Judge J. Walter Knight, M. O. Eldridge, of the United States department of roads, Washington, Mr. Sybert, of Madisonville, J. F. Grimes of Frankfort, Mayor John E. Garner, of Springfield, Tenn., and Charles E. Barker, of Pembroke.

Best Known Cough Remedy

For forty-three years Dr. King's New Discovery has been known throughout the world as the most reliable cough remedy. Over three million bottles were used last year. Isn't this proof? It will get rid of your cough, or we will refund your money. J. J. Owens, of Allendale, S. C., writes the way others have done: "After twenty years, I find that Dr. King's New Discovery is the best remedy for coughs or colds that I have ever used. For coughs or colds and all throat and lung troubles, it has no equal. 50c and $1 at Paul Drug Co."

AT SEA IN AN OPEN BOAT.

An Anxious Experience Off the Rock Bound Coast of Korea.

The perils of the small boat at sea are told by Jack London in an article on "Small Boat Sailing" in the Yachting Monthly.

"About the liveliest eight days of my life were spent in a small boat on the west coast of Korea," he writes. "I was in an open boat, a sampan, on a rocky coast where there were no light-houses and where the tides ran from thirty to sixty feet. My crew were Japanese fishermen. We did not speak each other's language. Yet there was nothing monotonous about that trip. Never shall I forget one particular cold, bitter dawn, when in the thick of driving snow we took in sail and dropped our small anchor."

"The Japanese crawled under a communal rice mat and went to sleep. I joined them, and for several hours we dozed fitfully. Then a sea deluged us with icy water and we found several inches of snow on top of the mat."

"It soon became a case of swamping at our anchor. Seas were splashing on board in growing volume, and we bailed constantly. And still my fisherman crew eyed the surf battered shore and did nothing."

"At last, after many narrow escapes from complete swamping, the fishermen got into action. All hands tailed on to the anchor and hove it up. Forward, as the boat's head paid off, we set a patch of sail about the size of a flour sack. And we headed straight for the rocky shore. I unlaced my shoes, unbuttoned my greatcoat and coat and was ready to make a quick partial strip a minute or so before we struck. But we didn't strike, and as we rushed in I saw the beauty of the situation. Before us opened a narrow channel, frilled at its mouth with breaking seas. Yet long before, when I had scanned the shore closely, there had been no such channel. I had forgotten the thirty foot tide. And it was for this time that the Japanese had so precariously waited."

"SCRATCHED ROCKS."

They Mark the Course of Glaciers

Adown Our Continent, Throughout the northern United States, from the Atlantic ocean to the far northwest and as far south as Kentucky, huge boulders are found scattered at haphazard. The rocks and ledges are smoothed and marked with scratches varying from faint lines to broad grooves two feet deep. Some of these boulders, weighing many tons, are so balanced on a ledge that a slight touch will rock them. The Indians used them as "alarm bells."

The grooves or scratches on these rocks are as a rule parallel and extend north and south. South of the above mentioned area neither boulders nor scratched rocks can be found.

How came the boulders in their position? What scratched the rocks?

Agassiz, familiar with the glaciers of the Alps, probably gave the true answer. He showed that a similar state of things is produced today by the glaciers of Switzerland. These streams of ice creep slowly down from the lofty summits of the Alps through the valleys to the plains. They bear on their surface huge rocks fallen from surrounding cliffs. The stones frozen in the bottom of the glacier, pressed down by the enormous weight of ice above them, scratch and groove the rocks beneath, as the tool of a carpenter gouges out a piece of wood.

What was the condition of America when similar effects were produced? Instead of local glaciers scattered in the valleys, the whole surface now covered with boulders must have been hidden by an immense sheet of ice. Judging from the marks on the rocks, the sheet moved from the north toward the south, carrying with it masses of rock.—Harper's Weekly.

Expectancy of Life.

All insurance is calculated upon the probable length of time a person has to live. This is called the average expectancy. Many elaborate tables have been made up by the insurance companies, some based upon one set of data, some upon another, and consequently they vary slightly. The British life annuity tables, a fair calculation, show that a man of fifty has a natural expectancy of living 21.2 years; a woman of the same age 23.5 years; at sixty his expectancy is 14.8 years; hers is 17 years; at seventy his is 9.5 years; hers 10.9 years.

She Saw.

"Why is Mrs. Wombat wearing such dowdy clothes lately? She spends half her husband's income on dress. But why is she wearing such mean looking clothes just now?"

"Her husband's mother is visiting her just now. See?"

The other woman saw.—Pittsburgh Post.

This Is English—Do You Get It?

Little Johnny came running in to his father and said:

"Oh, father, I have just gained a sovereign and threepence."

"How's that?" said his father.

"Well," said Johnny, "I have just bought a guinea pig for ninepence."

Very Thorough.

Clarice—Well, aunt, how do you like your new doctor? Aunt—Oh, immensely. He's so thorough. He never comes to see me without finding some little thing the matter with me.—Judge.

Reckless.

Howell—Did you ever do any deed of daring? Powell—Yes; I once said what I thought when guessing a woman's age.—New York Press.

Mr. Bert Epperson, Montpelier, who is a candidate for the nomination for Sheriff, was shaking hands with voters in this community last week.

The woods continues to be full of hog buyers in this section. Parties from Indiana and Illinois are here now picking up what hogs are left at $7.00 per cwt.

Mr. Luther Bell, Neli, who is a candidate for the Democratic nomination for Jailer, was mixing with the boys last Wednesday. He was accompanied by his brother, Chess, who was buying hogs.

Landy Stotts has leased the mail route from here to Breeding and is now delivering mail.

R. L. Campbell was prevented from attending county court at Columbia last Monday on account of illness of himself and children.

J. M. Campbell, who was stricken with paralysis some weeks ago, does not improve and his friends are apprehensive lest his disease terminates fatally.

Dolphus Wheeler, Gradyville, was here last Wednesday buying cattle.

Gradyville.

Uncle Chas. Yates was on the sick list a few days of last week.

R. L. Caldwell, of the Mill-town section, was with us last Saturday.

Charles Sparks and G. E. Nell were in Columbia last Saturday.

W. C. Yates, of Portland, was through here last Monday looking after hogs.

Rome Hurt, a colored boy, living with Strong Hill, was dangerously hurt one day last week by a horse falling with him.

Mr. James Gist, formerly of Texas, who has been with us for several months, is confined to his room with a complication of diseases.

Messrs. Otley, Epperson and Vaughan, candidates for Judge, Sheriff and Jailor, were in our midst last week shaking hands with their friends.

The marriage of James Hoy to Miss Maggie Bragg was a surprise to some of us.

Austin Willmore spent last Sunday in Edmonton.

Several of the people from this place attended the funeral of Mr. Jo Bell, near Red Rick, last Thursday.

Mr. Odel, the State Bank Inspector, spent a day or so here last week.

Mr. Clem Keltner, who sold his stock of merchandise and other property to Nell Bros. a few weeks ago, will move in a day or so to the property of Mrs. J. W. Sexton in our midst.

A young Mr. Grady, a son of Mr. Willie Grady, formerly of this place, who has been located in Texas for a number of years, spent several days here last week visiting his relatives and friends.

We had a very hard rain last Thursday afternoon. It looked very much for a few minutes that our town was going to be in the midst of a flood of water again. It being March weather the rain ceased and no serious damage was done.

Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Hindman, of Columbia, spent a day or so of last week visiting their relatives and friends in our city.

One of the most progressive farmers in the western part of this county, is no less than our old friend Jack Barnes, who is always up with every kind of work and when seed time and harvest come he is ready for the results. He takes everything easy and makes money on every hand; while in conversation with him a few days ago in regard to his production of ginseng he informed us that his sales last year amounted to something near $175 and that he had something like one bushel of seed that he could dispose of at this time. He is just as good on tobacco, corn and wheat. Give us more farmers like Mr. Barnes.

The few days of warm sunshine last week put a move on our farmers and we are glad to note that the farming interest in this section is right up. Some few of our farmers are about done turning their corn ground. Oats and grass seed have been sown and one hundred tobacco beds all canvassed. Preparations are being made for planting gardens. Stock of all kinds is bringing the highest prices. Banks all over the county full of money. Nothing less than prosperity right on us under the Democratic administration. It is hard right at this time to tell what the future results will be.

John A. Hobson, Greensburg, Ky., will pay you best prices for your hogs, sheep or cattle. Write or phone him.

Obituary.

On the death of R. N. Groves, who died December 6th, 1912, at Cane Valley, was seventy-five years of age, this community lost one of her noblest handi-works of God. It was the writer's good fortune to be one of his grandsons, and as such, had an intimate knowledge of the many sterling qualities of his grandfather. Mr. Groves came to us from Louisville about twenty years ago, and at once by his square dealings, kindly nature and sympathetic interest in the affairs of his neighbors endeared himself to all. In his home life he was gentle and indulgent and made it as near perfection as homes can be on this earth. He was a good neighbor, a patriotic citizen who took an interest in all that pertained to the general welfare, was unselfish to a degree and took a delight in the happiness of others to which he contributed in no small degree by his sunny disposition and words of cheer to those who were inclined to look at the dark side of this life. To those who knew him he will be sorely missed and to such as him the Gates of our Father's Kingdom are open where he is enjoying his merited reward.

Everett Smith.

Jackman Bros. went to Louisville last week on a business trip.

Mr. Chas Perryman and Mr. J. Bob Higginbottom spent Saturday in Glenville.

Mr. A. E. Rabon and his little daughter, Mabel, are visiting out on Crocus.

Miss Dolly Allen and her brother, Will, visited Misses Ida and Emma Black last week.

We were glad to see Miss Marjorel Buster and have her home a few days. She returned to the Lindsay-Wilson on Monday.

Miss Alice Keeton is studying music with Mrs. Self. We are always sure of some good music when Miss Effie Armstrong and Miss Bessie Campbell are here for a lesson.

Bro. L. T. Wells gave us a good sermon on Saturday night and another on Sunday. Also left an appointment for the second Saturday night in April.

Mr. Nora Grider, of Celina, Tenn., is visiting her brother, Mr. Ed Campbell.

Bostic, March, 7, 1913

Editor News:—

As my last two articles caused me to hear from three friends who have hitherto been as silent as the Sphinx; I am encouraged to write again.

One of these was my instructor in psalmody in the sweet days of long ago; and the reader will recognize the fine Italian hand of J. C. Yates. His lines seem to have fallen in pleasant places, and his letter portrays the spirit of poetry and patriotism. Sad memories are evoked, however, as he reverts to forty years ago.

As is ever the case when a man passes the meridian of life, no girls are so sweet and winsome as the girls of long ago; and flowers and fields are not so bright and vernal, and the songs of the birds not so sweet and joyous.

All have our days of sad retrospect; and I am not an exception. But I am of a hopeful nature, and my calling keeps me with young people. Girls are just as sweet and modest as they were then, and boys just as brave, manly and generous.

They are no longer the same girls and boys of dear old Kentucky; but as a teacher, they are my boys and girls; and full of budding promise for the future.

While boys and girls are natural and unsophisticated; they are sweet and look good to me.

When they get into the "fast set" and become worldly-wise, the sweet innocence passes away, and we have the frivolous coquette and the mercenary money-grubber.

My life has been one of toil, privation and conquest.

I scorn what the world calls diplomacy and what I call lying.

I have never had the moral support of demagogues nor that of the narrow-minded portion of the ministry. I enjoy confidence and support of real statesmen and really consecrated preachers.

But these temporizing politicians who have no real convictions, but follow the "majority," right or wrong, and those "called" preachers who have neither "wit, words, words nor utterance," promptly label me, "Nobody's Darling."

North Carolina has been at about the foot of the class in illiteracy, length of school term, and teaching equipment. With other teachers I have tried to improve conditions. For twenty years every jack-leg politician and cyming-headed preacher have been in agony for fear somebody would "hurt the party." But a few real statesmen and good preachers have helped in the good work.

Twenty years ago, we had three months term of school, and twelve years ago C. B. Aycock, the Educational Governor, raised it to be four.

The present legislature has, by a nearly unanimous vote, raised it to six months.

The agencies to accomplish this, have been the State press, State Superintendent, J. Y. Joyner, other teachers, the Farmers Union, The Junior Order, and the eloquence of C. D. McIver and C. B. Aycock who died in harness making speeches for the cause of education. I have fought with pen, fists and a Winchester rifle; have been ordered arrested for criminal libel; have been haled before every church, county and State tribunal; and prejudged as guilty by the public.

In church affairs a presiding elder has been better to me than some sanctimonious sky-pilot; and a superior court judge, better than some ignorant, self-important "Squire."

Visions of road sentences and penitentiary have been seen by certain people for me; but I have never been deprived of my liberty.

I remain an advocate of Wilson Democracy, and a high private in the church militant.

DOCTORS ENDORSE Newbro's Herpicide

When a doctor endorses a preparation it means more than an ordinary testimonial. His opinion is always that of the professional man devoted to the welfare of the people.

Rev. J. J. Boyd, Covington, Tenn., says: "I feel it my duty to write this for the benefit of those suffering from dandruff. In the average case a few applications of Newbro's Herpicide will remove all dandruff. It is advisable to continue its use for several weeks."

The words of J. B. Thompson, M.D., No. 2 Burroughs Place, Cor. Hollis St., Boston, Mass., are not less enthusiastic: "I can only speak in praise of Newbro's Herpicide. It is all that is claimed and perhaps more. Herpicide not only cleanses the scalp but brightens the hair, gives it life and makes it soft."

Newbro's Herpicide is the original remedy to kill the dandruff germ and stop falling hair. The terrible itching which goes with dandruff is allayed almost at once.

in Louisville last week witnesses in the Federal Court.

W. G. Shepherd sold to Mr. Sloan, of Dunnville, 4 hogs last week.

J. O. White sold to Mr. Armstrong, of Danville, a nice bunch of hogs last week.

There has been a good many men through here recently looking for cattle and hogs, consequently they are all picked up.

Corn is selling at $3.00 per barrel. The prospect for wheat is some better since the hard freezes let up.

Mr. Welby McQueary and family left for Kokomo, Ind., last week to make it their future home.

W. C. Barrett has his saw mill in operation again which is located on his farm.

D. F. White sold a pair of yearling mules to Jo Blair for $200.

Frank Winfrey left for Kokomo, Ind., last week where he has a position.

The school at Mt. Olive, which was being taught by Robt. Foley, closed last week.

J. T. White bought one mule from Ira Carter for $125.

Ira Carter sold his farm near here to Clyde Jones. Price not known.

J. I. Cravens sold a tract of timbered land to J. W. Hadley for $1,400.

Frank Abrell sold to Joe Thomas, of Luttrell's Creek, one cow for $43.

Jim Redmon bought 10 sheep from C. T. Roberts for $18.

Died on the 13th, Mrs. Sallie Ann Dickerson. She was the widow of Elijah Dickerson, who lived on Luttrell's Creek. She was in her 79th year of age when the end came. She died at her daughter's, Mrs. P. M. Tarter, with pneumonia while here on a visit. She was a true Christian lady and very industrious. She was liked by all who knew her and especially good in sickness. She was laid to rest in the Pelley grave yard by the side of the husband who preceded her to the grave some years ago. She leaves nine children to mourn their loss besides a host of friends.

There was a birth day dinner given at the home of Ephram McKinley on Monday, March 4, being his seventh anniversary. There had been a most sumptuous dinner had been prepared by his wife consisting of boiled ham roast chicken, fish, all kinds of salads, pies, cakes etc. Mr. McKinley was a Union Soldier in the 13th Ky. Calvary. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. W. G. White, Mr. and Mrs. J. N. Cravens, Mr. and Mrs. J. I. Cravens, Mr. and Mrs. Logan Dunbar and Mr. and Mrs. D. G. Shepherd.

After eating to their fill, the old soldiers engaged in an old time conversation, making a most enjoyable event.
